

January 19, 2011

Re: Letter of Reference for Darren Ray Evans

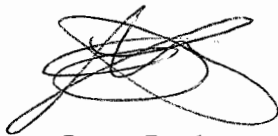

To Whom It May Concern:

I am very pleased to write a letter of reference for Darren Ray Evans. I hired Darren a few years ago to produce some songs for me. During that time, I was amazed at his high level of enthusiasm for the work and I developed an appreciation for his technical skills and creative talents, which I rate as outstanding. Darren has exceptional knowledge of all aspects of music production. He took the crude scraps he was given, found solutions to some difficult problems, and created works of beauty. His organizational skills made sure that his productions stayed within budget and were completed on time.

Despite his musical talents and technological skills, however, Darren was not intolerant of client input. He was very flexible and constantly invited input from me through all stages of his productions. He really listened to what I had to say. Darren is a person of true integrity. He is committed to his clients. Aside from his musical genius and technological aptitude, I know that the success of Darren's music productions are in part due to the successful working relationships that he creates with his clients. Such working relationships require superior interpersonal skills that many musically talented people just don't have. Darren communicates openly and directly and is able to provide constructive criticism. His passion for music translates into sincere enthusiasm for his productions.

I heartily recommend Darren for employment or consultation services in any aspect of music production.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Laura Poole', with a stylized, looping flourish.

Laura Poole
15118 Eagle Grove Street
San Antonio, TX 78232